

AromaTouch

A Clinical Approach to Support Stress and Our Body's Responses to Stress

This is an Amazing experience of aromatherapy placed directly on the back, cranium and feet.

To help support the health of our emotional and physiological functions, a clinical approach has been developed, combining soft touch application of oils, feathered along the meridian system. Specific oils and blends address target areas of Immune Enhancement, Stress Reduction, reduction of Inflammatory Response and Homeostasis.

Many of us that are very tender, even to massage, enjoy this therapeutic, soft touch to relax and rejuvenate. It is an experience often repeated for a sense of peace and wellbeing.
